Our first exhibition titled "But I am not an Artist" focuses on creative works done by people who have not been classically trained in any art field. The showcased works are from product designers, financial analysts, marketing managers, amongst many others. The goal of this edition is to highlight creativity in the most unexpected places as these individuals have expressed themselves through various media such as acrylics, photography, digital art using Adobe Illustrator and other avenues highlighted in the exhibition.
